The New Orleans Homicide.

The following particulars of the killing of J. J. Bryant, is from the New Orleans Picayune of January 31st:

Between seven and eight o'clock last evening, the thronged localities in the neighborhood of the St. Charles Hotel were thrown into a high excitement, by the report that a terrible affray had just occurred in the rotunda or office of the St. Charles Hotel, resulting in the death of J. J. Bryant, a man well known in the sporting circles about town, and the serious, if not dangerous wounding of Judge Fred Tate, of Lagrange, Texas, who is also extensively known in the city. Upon reaching the hotel, we found a large and excited mass crowding the rotunda and the banquette in front of the building. Pushing our way through this oscillating mass, we made our way to the door of the room in which lay the wounded man—the body of the dead one having been conveyed to his room on Gravier street, near Basin. We found the entrance guarded by policeman, around whom were crowded many eager either for admittance or news. We effected an entrance, and found Judge Tate stretched upon his bed, covered with blood. The physicians had already dressed his wound, which was caused by a stab in the right breast, inflicted by a gimlet-handle dagger. He seemed to be fully self-possessed; said that he felt easy, and asked the removal of the sheets and bed covering, which contained blood. He said that he had avoided the difficulty as long as he could. The physician in attendance here requested him to cease speaking.

In relation to the difficulty we could only learn that there were a number of persons present when it occurred. A few harsh words passed between Bryant and Tate, and the report of a pistol was heard. This created a commotion in the crowd present, and every one seemed to hurry to get out of the room. Beyound this but little could be ascertained. Three shots were fired, and Bryant fell forward on his face. Several parties intervened, and Bryant was found to be dead, and Tate stabbed as before mentioned. Bryant, in death, still retained the knife in his hand.

The difficulty between the parties, it is said, originated yesterday evening, about 3 o'clock, when Bryant publicly accused Tate of having swindled some merchant out of $3,000. Friends interfered, and they were parted. When Tate met Bryant in the St. Charles Hotel, he broached the subject again, and the affair ended as stated. The matter will be fully investigated to-day.

Bryant was a man well known in our midst. He was about sixty years of age, but looked much younger. year s since Bryant, while in California, ran against Col. Jack Hays for the office of Sheriff of San Francisco, and spent an immense sum of money to insure his election; but the great popularity of the noted Texas Ranger, who had just arrived in California from San Antonio, gave him the office, and Bryant was defeated.

Bryant received three pistol wounds, each of which would have, doubtless, proven fatal—two bullets entered the breast and one just above the right eyebrow into the brain.

Tate is a man about forty years of age, stout and robust, black whiskers and hair, and by profession a lawyer. Since the war he has spent the most of his time in this city.

MRS. BURDELL.—Mrs. Burdell Cunningham lives in a small Mexican town of Loretto, Lower California, on the western shore of the Gulf, about one hundred miles north of Cape St. Lucas. She had been engaged there in the masculine duty of supervising the operations of a silver mine purchased by herself. In the discharge of this duty she has displayed remarkable energy and capacity for business, traveling often to Guaymas, Mazatlan and San Francisco, to purchase supplies, superintending their shipment, and at Loretto directing the labors of large gangs of Mexicans, disbursing funds, supervising the beneficiating of ores and shipping the product. She was in New York a few months since with her daughter; both passing under the name of Hayes.

A SMART PRISONER.—A Wisconsin official, who had arrested a couple of rascals, was riding with his prisoners, when a prairie chicken made its appearance, and the officer drew his revolver and fired two or three shots at it. One of the prisoners suggested that he could do better, and the revolver was handed over to him. The prisoner, however, did not try his skill on the chicken, but presented the shooting iron at the officer and "backed off," leaving that functionary to cogitate on the "uncertainty of man," and to return home minus prisoners and a $20 revolver.

NEW PAPER.—The San Francisco correspondent of the Sacramento Bee says:

The new evening paper about to issue will not create a very great sensation, probably, and its future is not fully insured, as far as I learn. Mr. W. J. Beggs, formerly of the Nevada Gazette, and Auburn Stars and Stripes is to be its editor. He is a vigorous writer, and has our best wishes in his new place.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING.—James Black, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, has undertaken to raise a fund of $100,000 for the use of the National Temperance Society, and Wm. E. Dodge, of New York, has subscribed $10,000 for this fund. At that rate the sum will soon be in hand.

A NICE EDITOR.—An editor of a Yankee paper writes to his subscribers: "We hope our friends will overlook our irregularities for the past few weeks. We are now permanently located in the county gaol, with sufficient force to insure the regular issue of our paper in future."

A CHANGE.—A dispatch to the Sacramento Bee of the 9th, says: Noah Brooks, managing editor of the Times, went out this morning, Wm. Bahsman, who was on the news department, resumes the editorial chair of the Times.

THE DAILY RECORD.—This is the title of a neat looking daily paper published in Sacramento by an association of printers. It will be independent in its tone. Sacramento Union, Feb. 10th.

A GRAND horse comedy, in which some fifteen horses are introduced upon the stage, is the latest sensation at a New York theatre.

BE contented with what you have, as the rat said to the trap, when he left his tail in it.

The Rush Valley Mines.

Concerning the mines of argentiferous galena at Rush Valley, little has been said for some time to attract public attention. That these mines are of vast extent and undoubted richness was demonstrated long since. But unfortunately for obtaining large practical results, they were discovered, owned, and held by individuals having little other capital to develope them than their own industry and labor. Many of the veins have been opened by shafts and tunnels, the rich ore exposed and crude furnaces for smelting erected without the aid of foreign capital. The results have been satisfactory, though not of that extent to demonstrate the value of these mines.

During the past Winter, notwithstanding the snows and difficulties necessarily encountered in that season, considerable and most satisfactory progress has been made. Smelting and cupelling furnaces adopted to the character of work on hand, have been built, and a small engine set up for crushing and blasting purposes. Practical smelters have been busily engaged at Stockton in testing the ores and superintending the works. The "Connor Smelting Company," under the supervision of General Connor, have been at work to demonstrate the practicability of separating the precious metal from the crude ore by means of blast and cupel furnaces. We regret to learn that just as the Company was prepared to commence work on a large scale, the engine shaft broke, and will probably necessitate sending to California for repairs. Still, before the accident, the most satisfactory results were obtained. The process adopted for separating the metals by means of cupelling is found to be correct, as well in practice as in theory. We have seen a fine bar of silver, the result of a partial working of the furnaces, and run into its present shape in the moulds of Messrs. Bohm & Molitor, Assayers of this city.

Messrs. Warren and Davis, in charge of the works of the Smelting Company, are practical workers in minerals, and have had large experience in the mines of Nevada, Arizona and Mexico. Below we append a communication received from these gentlemen, who express the highest confidence in the Rush Valley mines. Their long experience and scientific and practical knowledge of the subject commands attention. But these gentlemen do not confine themselves, as too many do, to the mere expression of opinion, but give us facts and figures which demonstrate the feasibility and profitableness of the mines of Utah, with which they are conversant. To attain such results, as they show are practicable in Rush Valley, hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended on the mines of Nevada, and yet the entire outlay required by them is estimated at $12,000. The great redeeming feature of the Utah silver mines is, that the rock does not require crushing by expensive mill and stamping machinery. The great bulk of the work is done by fire in blasting furnaces, abundance of fuel being cheap and near at hand. Below will be found the interesting communication of Messrs. Warren and Davis:

RUSH VALLEY MINING DISTRICT, }
February 18th, 1867. }

EDITOR VEDETTE:—Knowing the interest you feel in anything having a bearing on the future prosperity of Utah Territory, we furnish you with a condensed statement of the working results of our process of smelting the argentiferous galena ores so abundant in this district; also, our estimates, based upon actual experience, of the cost of erecting, at a proper season of the year, suitable reduction works and running the same successfully.

Our experimental trial was made on ore taken from the "Silver King" ledge, regarded by all the miners as furnishing the lowest grade ore of any mine in the district. The object to be attained in selecting the poorest class of ore for a first test will be manifest to any careful worker; for if we succeeded in making such pay a profit above working expenses, the fact would be established beyond a doubt that the numerous other ledges, known to be far richer, would yield an increased amount of profit under like treatment, and safely warrant any reasonable expenditure of capital in erecting good and substantial reduction works, capable of treating all the ores mined.

The mines of Rush Valley can be made, under skillful and intelligent management, to yield vast quantities of precious metal, and afford profitable employment to a large mining population. This much is to be desired and can be achieved by a comparatively small outlay of capital, as we will endeavor to make plain by a few figures:

Cost of erecting a sufficient number of our blast furnaces to reduce 48 tons of ore per diem, will be	$3,800
Cost of shed or building to inclose same	2,000
Steam engine, 20 horse power, 12 horse	5,000
Cupelling furnace for refining crude bullion	1,200
Total cost of erection	$12,000
Daily expenses of running the same:
Wages of smelters and refiners	$260
" assistants, feeders, fluxers, etc	100
Cost of fuel	276
" mining and hauling 48 tons	960
Total daily expenses	$1,596
Product in crude bullion, known by actual test, and yielding in silver $85 per ton, 24 tons—value of same in silver	$2,040
Lead bullion after refining same, @ 5 cts. ₱ lb—half the market price at the East	1,598
Total product	$3,638
Net daily profit	$2,042

The above estimate of working costs is larger than necessary, sufficiently so to provide a fund to cover any unforeseen expenditure that might arise. We would have made working tests of all the other ores found in the district, had not the engine unfortunately broken down while under full blast, necessitating a suspension of further operations for the present.

Having had considerable experience in the treatment of these peculiar class of ores, we [illegible] in sending that few, if any, mining districts on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains can offer greater inducements for the investment of capital than Rush Valley District, Utah Territory.

Respectfully, yours,

WARREN & DAVIS.

A bill abolishing the usury laws has passed the Massachusetts Legislature. It takes effect July 1st, 1867.

Washington, February 19.

The following circular has been issued by command of General Grant:

"Hereafter, none but unmarried men, who are not less than 5 feet 5 inches in height, shall be enlisted in the Army of the United States, for any arm of the service.

"This regulation will not apply to men enlisting in regiments of the Veteran Reserve corps, or to men enlisting as musicians."

The Senate held an evening session.

The bill to abolish and forever prohibit peonage in New Mexico, passed.

A bill passed providing that Regular Army officers shall have, by brevet, the highest rank they held as Volunteers.

The bill giving an increase of pay for two years from the 1st of July next to Army officers below the rank of Major General, and continuing in force three years from August 20th last the Act for increased pay to soldiers in the army, etc., was considered. Among its provisions is one prohibiting the whipping or maiming of persons, as punishment for crime, in any State lately in rebellion, and such States. An amendment was adopted that the increase of pay to officers shall date from July, 1866, instead of 1867. Section 4, requiring the disbandment of militia in the rebel States, was stricken out; and the bill then passed.

A bill supplementary to the Act abolishing imprisonment for debt was passed.

Washington, February 19.

A communication from the President to the Senate, to-day, states that the Executive, not being cognizant of any violation of the Civil Rights bill, referred the Senate's resolution of inquiry to the heads of Departments. No such violations had come to the knowledge of the Navy, Interior, Post-Office, Treasury, or State Department. The Secretary of War says no instance has been reported of neglect or refusal on the part of military officers or employees to enforce the Act.

In the House, a message was received from the Senate announcing that it insisted on its amendment to the Military Government bill.

Wilson, of Iowa, moved that the House concur in the Senate amendment, with the following amendment by way of proviso:

Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said proposition of amendment to the Constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as member of a Convention to form a Constitution for any of said rebel States; nor shall any such person vote for members of such Convention.

Blaine moved the previous question.

Eldridge moved to table the bill. Rejected—yeas, 35; nays, 106. Stevens did not vote.

House adjourned.

The following dispatches appear in the Denver News, of February 12th:

San Francisco, February 11.

Gold in New York Saturday evening was 137¼; sterling, 108¼. Greenbacks quoted [illegible] selling.

The Hale & Norcross dividend of $125 per foot, payable February 15th, amounts to $125,000 [illegible]. It is thought the Yellow Jacket will declare no dividends this month, and the Confidence is reported to have levied an assessment of $25, payable immediately.

The libel suit of Dr. Howell against Mose, owner of the Examiner, for $100,000 damages, has been on trial all day. The defendant is offering testimony calculated to substantiate the charges made.

Robert Pollock, formerly Colonel of the Third California Infantry, and later Lieutenant Colonel of the Second, and Captain Starr, late of the Second California Cavalry, passed the Military Board of Examiners to-day. Pollock will be First Lieutenant in the Second United States Infantry, and Starrin the Eighth Cavalry. The first will be ordered to Arizona; the latter to Idaho or Montana.

The propeller California is to be placed on the route between this city, Monterey and Santa Cruz.

The Idaho is to be put on the Portland route in place of the Montana, which is to run in the Mexican trade in opposition to the Holladay line, and if they are not bought off it is rumored they will be in competition for the $100,000 Government subsidy for a steam mail line to Honolulu. The Oriflamme is to leave for the Gulf in five or six days, and Holladay goes on her. It is supposed she will replace the Panama. It is also rumored that Holladay will soon start a steam line to the mouth of the Colorado river, and that the Trueworthy opposition line on the Colorado will have two new boats built expressly for that trade running in connection with it.

The stipulation under which damages were awarded to the State for the back use of wharves recently coming into control of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners filed to-day in the Fourth District Court shows the amounts allowed as follows: Pacific wharf, $15,000; Central wharf, $5,000; Broadway wharf, $15,000, and Richardson wharf $15,000; making in all $50,000 damages coming to the State for back use as mesne profits on their property.

A mouement has been inaugurated for the erection of a monument to the poet Pollock at Lone Mountain, and the Committee have commenced raising subscriptions for it.

THE Montana Post, of February 12th, publishes the annexed items:

STARTED UP.—Professor Hodge's mill in Oro Fino gulch, and Judge Turnley's mill in Grizzly gulch, have again commenced operations. The former on last Wednesday, and the latter on Thursday last.

NEW SECRETARY.—There is a petition circulating around town for the appointment of A. H. Barrett as Secretary of our Territory. We understand that it is signed by General Meagher, and all the leading Democrats of the city.

NEW AND RICH DISCOVERIES.—It is an undoubted fact that the richness of our Territory becomes daily more and more generally understood. From the first discovery of Alder gulch down to the present time (excepting now and then a short period of despondency), the progress and development of our placers, gulch and lode mines, have been steady, healthy and exciting. More recently, however, news of a more important discovery, and still richer region of country than has been heard of for a long time, became the theme of street and fireside talk, and its richness has been confirmed by responsible parties who reliability may be counted upon. From five to twelve cents to the pan have been got in El Dorado Hill, Calkins' district, as the new discovery is called, and without doubt it is a rich mining section, the diggings being extensive and the prospects uniform all through the dirt, which ranges from five to twelve feet in depth. The district is located on the eastern bank of the Missouri river, about four and one-half miles below New York gulch. An extensive project is now on foot to bring the waters of Trout creek on to the bar. The route has been surveyed, and as early as the ground will permit the work will commence. The parties interested in this undertaking are Jerome Calkins, Esq., an old, experienced, enterprising and practical California and Arizona miner, after whom the district is named, and also Messrs. McKnight, Ames, Kemp and Cyrus. It is estimated that the ditch will cost some $30,000. When completed two thousand miners can work on the hills with ease, and next summer we may expect to hear of large returns of the precious metal, water alone being needed to make for every claim-holder a fortune. Unlike Salmon river—to which we will not ascribe the sentiment "distance lends enchantment to the view," as it might appear sectional—it is near home, and we feel constrained to admonish our friends to look well to the rich discoveries in and around our valleys and hills before investing in cayuse flesh, rickety wagons and broken down horned stock with which to encounter the swollen streams, rocky roads and engulphing mud between here and the Salmon river or Lemhi country.

A TESTIMONIAL TO EDWIN BOOTH.—The New York Evening Post, of January 17th, says:

Next Tuesday evening will be an occasion honorable in the world of art. On that evening, at the close of Edwin Booth's performance of Hamlet at the Winter Garden, there will be presented to him, by a committee of representative men in every pursuit of learning and every branch of art, a testimonial, the motive and character of which finds best expression in the following beautiful letter addressed by the subscribers to Booth:

New York, March 6, 1866.

Edwin Booth—Dear Sir: Your performance of Hamlet for a hundred successive nights is an event unprecedented in the annals of the stage, and so honorable to the public taste and to your genius, that we wish to signalize and commemorate it by the accompanying medal, which we offer to you with our sincerest respect and friendship.

It is not, we are very sure, the emotion and applause of the moment, however rapturous they may be, but it is the influence of beauty flowering into a thousand kindly thoughts and humane deeds which is the true glory of art, and the purest satisfaction of the artist, and your portraiture of Hamlet. "That unmatched form and feature of blown youth is so subtle and delicate, so pathetic and powerful," that when we say it will always hereafter be the image of Shakespeare's Hamlet in our minds—a perpetually refining presence—we know that we tell a truth which will be to you the most grateful praise.

We are, dear sir, but a very few of the many of your countrymen who would gladly join in such an acknowledgment of your masterly interpretation of our great poet, and we venture, therefore, to ask you to accept this token, not only as our own offering, but as that of all those whom your public career has made your faithful friends, and who earnestly hope for your continued welfare.

AN APPEAL.—The editor of the Cynthiana (Kentucky) News, in making an appeal to his subscribers, who are in arrears, to pay up, says: "We hope they will settle without delay. Not that we need the money—oh, no! Our ink is given to us, we steal our paper, and we win our printers' wages at seven-up. So it costs us nothing to carry on business. Nevertheless, as a matter of accommodation we will take what they owe us if they will send it immediately.

From the North.

The Helena Gazette [illegible] Meagher has sent in his resignation as Secretary of the Territory, but it is probable his successor will not be appointed until the return of Governor Green Clay Smith. In relation, however, it is not General Meagher's intention to [illegible]. On the contrary, he resigns with the view of [illegible] and substantially to take up his residence in the Territory, and become "one of us."

Professor Hodge and son were arrested, at their residence, where they are confined by wounds received in the unfortunate affray that resulted in the death of George Moore, and placed under guard at their residence. We regret to learn that Professor Hodge's condition is critical. His son, whose hand was amputated by Doctors Glick and Maupin, is doing well.

NEWS from the Lewiston Journal is as follows;

INCORPORATION OF LEWISTON.—Lewiston is no longer a small town of fifty inhabitants as once reported in Boise. Her name can now be spelled with a capital L, as she is no longer "little lewiston." She has the grand charter of a City,—"The City of Lewiston"—and must hereafter be recognized by that name. So have said the solons at Boise City, and we suppose the people here will say amen!

FROM GOLD CREEK.—Mr. Points, who arrived from the Palouse, reports about 30 men at Gold creek, all doing well. They have been averaging from $4 to $9 per day to the man, in those claims opened and in order. He thinks all will have their claims ready for working in about two weeks. The water is now running plentifully in the creeks—about twenty inches of snow in the mines. No snow on the Palouse, and from two to fifteen inches on the table land between this and the Palouse bridge. No cold weather in the mines sufficient to stop work.

Mr. P. thinks that creek will furnish good paying claims for about 150 men—and that another creek about five miles above will also be worked to advantage and profit.

Gold creek is a tributary of the Palouse, flowing from the North, and is about forty-five miles from this place.

GOLD FIELD SOUTH OF THE DALLES.—It will be remembered that in 1845, a party of emigrants to Oregon, took what was called Meek's cut-off, and became lost in the country South of the Dalles. They, in their wanderings, discovered a yellow malleable substance, in considerable quantity in the bed of one of the streams, but at that time the gold discoveries of California had not been made, and these emigrants had but little knowledge of gold, and consequently gave but little heed to this yellow substance they had found.

Since the opening of the gold placers of California, several of these emigrants have worked in the mines, and are now firmly of the opinion, the substance they discovered in said stream in 1845 was gold.

Several of them have at different times endeavored to find the locality of this place, but have hitherto been unsuccessful. They have gone in too small companies, and have been interfered with by the hostile Indians, and forced to abandon their search.

Another party of about one hundred men well armed and equipped is now being organized in Portland, under Wm. H. Blain, to make a thorough search over the section of country South of the Dalles and East of the Cascade range, in the confident hope of discovering the locality of this yellow metal. Success to them. We have often heard the account given by some of these emigrants, whom we knew to be truthful men, and fully believe in the sincerity of their opinions.

THE OLDEST LIGHTNING CONDUCTOR.—Arago, following:

The Temple of the Jews at Jerusalem, existed for a period of nearly 1,000 years; for the Temple of Solomon existed nearly 400 years, and the second about 600 years. This temple was by its situation more particularly exposed to the very frequent and violent thunder storms in Palestine. Nevertheless neither the Bible nor Josephus mentions that it was ever struck by lightning. The cause of this is very simple. By a fortuitous circumstance, the Temple of Jerusalem was provided with a lightning conductor, which came very near that discovered by Franklin, used by us. The roof of the temple, similar to those found in Italy, and covered with thickly gilt cedar wood, was furnished from one end to the other, with long iron or steel pointed spikes, gilt at the top. The walls of the building in the front were likewise in their full length covered with thickly gilt wood. Lastly, beneath the forecourt of the temple, there were cisterns into which flowed the water coming from the roof by means of metal pipes. Here we find such a multitude of lightning conductors, that Lichtenberg was right when he maintained that the mechanism of the like constructions in our days is far from presenting an apparatus so well adapted to produce the desired effect.—Hebrew Observer.

THE PHIL. KEARNY MASSACRE.—A Washington date states that the Commissioner of Indian Affairs has appointed the following civilians as post commissioners to investigate the circumstances connected with the massacre at Fort Phil. Kearny: General James B. Steedman, John B. Sanborn and Judge J. F. Kinney. In addition, two officers of the army will be appointed on the commission, not yet selected. The commissioners will rendezvous at Omaha on the 15th inst., clothed with ample power to make a full examination.

THE YACHTS OUTDONE.—Two clippers have just flown all the way from Callao to Gibralter, and come in at last within twenty-five minutes of each other. In the celebrated race of the tea-ships last spring, four ships which left Hoag-Ho together, after careering half around the globe, dropped anchor in the Thames but nine hours apart, but this last neck-and-neck, or bowsprit-and-bowsprit heats of nine thousand miles, outstrips this, and even the great race between New York and the Needles.

ONE-PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

F Street,

SIGN OF THE GILT ANCHOR!

DENVER, COLORADO,

Is not the "Largest," but the MOST ELEGANT CLOTHING HOUSE in Colorado.

And from the East and to the West.
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none, as yet, was heard to regret,
That he ever gave him a call.

He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals.
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.

Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep.
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
